A Missionary in His service 'til He comes

April 15, 2019

Dear Praying Friends,

Greetings to you once again. Time has really gone fast since my arrival to the States on January 15th. Many hours have been spent with my doctors, giving me the once over, and sometimes more than a "once over" to see what is happening in my body. I praise the Lord that most all the tests came out good, in fact, better than a year ago.

My insurance company, who has provided caregivers for me for seven years, has declared me to be "physically fit" to where I do not need their services any longer. I believe their assessment was correct because I am feeling much better now than I have in the past two years. What can I say but praise be to our Wonderful God and Savior Jesus Christ. I will be traveling alone, with the Lord of course.

I do have one concern that I would like you to pray about, my eyes. I have had macular degeneration for some time now and I need special care for them. I had laser surgery done on my right eye to clean the implant and it has improved the eyesight in that eye a lot. New glasses were prescribed and now I am able to see more clearly. PTL!

At this writing I am packing up my belongings for my next departure May 1st. to the Philippines. My schedule is filled to the brim until I return to the States November 5th. Here's a brief list of things I will be doing while there:

1. I will have a part in our Pastors and Workers Camp starting May 13th.
2. Once the camp is over I will be moving to Banaue, about an 8 to 10 hour drive North, where the famous Rice Terrace are. I will be doing evangelistic work there until July 1st. I will be taking along with me one of our graduates from our Bible College in Manila to assist me in this undertaking. It will be personal soul-winning, door to door.
3. After Banaue, I will return to Manila to relieve a Pastor for four months while he and his wife leave the country. This church has a full program of services: Sunday School, Morning and evening services, Wednesday Prayer service, and activities.
4. In addition to the above, I will be preaching in many other locations as time permits.

I love what I am doing; preaching, teaching and winning the lost to Jesus Christ. This has been my purpose and passion in my life since 1966 and I plan to continue on fulfilling my purpose until Jesus takes me home to be with Him forever. I appreciate your faithful prayers and financial support. Thank you. In His service until He comes,
