

The Lord Jesus presented Himself as the Door to salvation. He said "I am the Door" - as though there were many doors. All roads may lead to London (or Rome) but all doors do not lead to Heaven. The Lord Jesus is not one of many doors, but the Door - the only Door.

He said "I am the way, the truth, and the life: no man cometh unto the Father, but by me" (John 14:6). It is written "Neither is there salvation in any other: for there is none other name under heaven given among men, whereby we must be saved" (Acts 4:12).

The word "Door" is appealing in its simplicity and suggestiveness. We all know what a door is and what it is for - a door is an entrance, a portal, a means of access.

The Lord Jesus is the entrance to Salvation, to Peace, to Eternal Life, to Divine Glory, to Heaven and Home!

Is it not fitting that He should be the Door? For He is the only One who died for our sins "that he might bring us to God" (I Peter 3:18). It was His precious blood that was shed for the remission of our sins (Eph. 1:7). He has been raised from the dead and is the "firstfruits of them that slept" (I Cor. 15:20).

accepted time; behold, now is the day of salvation" (II Cor. 6:2).

We are assured that "... now is the invited to "Come now" and "Enter now," present - right now. That is why we are "I am the Door." He is the Door in the only be true of Him in the future. He said as though it were something that would past. He did not say "I will be the Door" - Door" - as though it were only true in the consideration. He did not say "I was the the word "am" should be given serious the Door. The Lord Himself is the Door although enjoined upon believers - are not Lord - are not the Door. Good works - The ordinances - although given by the his hears to the Door - is not the Door. The preacher - although able to point although a divine institution - is not the everybody else. Therefore the Church - the Door," He excludes everything and Lord Jesus Christ. When He says "I am statement "I am the Door."

Let us consider every word of the be saved ..." (John 10:9).

I AM THE DOOR

Now notice the simplicity of God's way of salvation - "By me if any man enter in he shall be saved." Not by Law - not by works - not by character - not by conduct - not by money - but "by me," said the Lord Jesus.

He alone is worthy and able to say "By me if any man (anyone - man, woman, girl or boy) enter in, he shall be saved."

The door is wide open! You have an invitation to enter. He says "Come unto me" (Matt. 11:28). Will you enter now and be saved? You can by simply asking Jesus to be your Saviour.

If you will accept Jesus as your Saviour, send us your name and address and we will send you other Christian literature.
